A haymaker, and one heavily telegraphed no less. It's not like she had any clue whatsoever. Of course, if moldylocks had a clue, she would be a porn actress and wouldn't be in that protest.

If I exhibited such physical incompetence as she did I would be mortified with shame. Hell, I would be a bit embarrassed to telegraph like that, but at least he put his hips in to the punch ...

How is this equality? It's a video of man punching a woman. There is no context.

She and her fellow Antifa crew engaged in a melee with counter protesters. She ran up on that dude without a solid plan and paid for her lack of strategy.

This is equality in the sense of "Equal rights, and equal lefts".

They want to be aggressive against men, but also to hold on to the "Don't hit girls" prohibition.

Women want the benefits of being a man, without the responsibility, costs, drawbacks or consequences.
