Here's the stupidest thing:

If you are sitting in a chair, you aren't taking up anyone else's space. It is a chair meant for 1 person.

Also, what's stopping a man for using the womens chair.... which allows you to spread your legs anyway

In a world with actual problems going on feminists actually care about how men sit down

The funny thing about this is that they're trying to fix a problem by creating another one. If they were actually for equality why aren't both the chairs the same, or why doesn't the physical needs of men get addressed.

The fact that shit like this makes the news is disgusting and a slap in the face to all the things that could be done for equality.
