Seriously.

CustardKarim • 1 point • 23 March, 2020 07:36 PM

Most of them use statistics and YOU ignore them

DankDestroyer96[S] • 1 point • 24 March, 2020 09:15 AM

Really doe? hit me with some facts.

CustardKarim • 1 point • 24 March, 2020 01:47 PM

Take a position as a Chief of Staff. There's an 11.5% wage gap between the male and female salary. An average male democrat would get $91200 and an average female democrat would get $81207

lol, people still believe in the pay gap....

The gender pay gap is stupid, as it's based off of the AVERAGE salary of men and women. this means that A. a few male billionaires drag up the average B. Men generally work higher paying jobs, ask for pay rises, work more hours in total, take less holidays, and prioritise work over family FAR more frequently than women.

So, uh, yeah.

CustardKarim • 1 point • 25 March, 2020 08:23 AM

You completely ignored the statistics. You just undid your whole post. Good job

DankDestroyer96[S] • 1 point • 25 March, 2020 09:30 AM

Yeah, "ignored statistics"

because proving them wrong and explaining why they are misleading is "ignoring" them. Nice how you failed to address any arguments in my comment, instead nitpicking something which didn't happen in the first place. And you wonder why feminism isn't taken seriously when you present pathetic arguments like this?

also, how do you expect me to take your statistics seriously when there is no provided source?

CustardKarim • 1 point • 25 March, 2020 09:41 AM

You said men work higher paying jobs, despite me providing a statistic where a man and a woman work the same job and get different payments.

DankDestroyer96[S] • 1 point • 25 March, 2020 09:58 AM

I have already explained why that is, and why that's not because of sexism.
fun fact, you're the only one to downvote this post

This is hopelees

your cause is hopeless, so stop breaking r/antifeminists rules and go and hide in a safe space
