Jake was drunk and couldn't consent but he is guilty of having a dick.

jackthepizzaman • 29 points • 14 January, 2020 01:10 PM

The biggest crime there is

VestigialHead • 49 points • 14 January, 2020 06:57 AM

Is there anyone on this planet that does not see the hypocrisy with this nonsense.

Also how does being drunk prevent someone from consenting or not consenting?

Do they not realise there is a difference between being drunk and being unconscious?

Absolute garbage and needs to be fought against wherever it pops up its ugly head.

AgentPhantomX • 9 points • 14 January, 2020 11:15 PM

There are tons of people who can't see the hypocrisy in this. They're called feminists.

UnLiberal04 • 1 point • 16 January, 2020 10:53 PM

I died laughing at this

Dem827 • 17 points • 14 January, 2020 02:15 PM

Cali is no joke about this stuff, don't drink and fuck strangers in Cali. gotta love those progressive politics

joker38 • 6 points • 14 January, 2020 06:34 PM

What if she did all the work and he just lay there motionless the whole time? Is he still regarded as a rapist? Doesn't make any sense!

Arteemiis[S] • 7 points • 14 January, 2020 02:38 PM

Omfg is this law??? In the past three days more and more examples of American's stupidity have been brought to my attention that I am starting to actually believe that Americans are stupid. Some times I feel so lucky I don't live in the USA. Yeah we've got problems but our at least isn't this outrageous

Dem827 • 3 points • 14 January, 2020 02:42 PM

It's really just California, Portland Oregon, sometimes Seattle Washington. And New York City is kind of a class it's own but you can at least fuck after a few drinks there, even if they don't let you have your guns.

UnLiberal04 • 2 points • 14 January, 2020 08:19 PM

Please don't group me with them. They are the... Special part of this country, or that's what they want to let you believe.

SaltyRyze • 3 points • 14 January, 2020 03:14 PM

So if both are drunk then the rapist is the one who is accused first?

baronmad • 7 points • 14 January, 2020 09:48 AM

I find this one to be hilarious, the mental gymnastics which went into making this into a serious idea is way beyond me.

Again, all this militant feminists ideology is eventually going to take away a woman's right to consent ever at any time!! Frater B

Masterchefpetyofficer • 3 points • 15 January, 2020 09:01 AM

So basically, a man is drunk, and a woman asks him for sex, who is also drunk, and noone cares that he wasn't able to consent

Pickleweede • 3 points • 17 January, 2020 09:30 AM

Why didn't Josie get accused and of rape? Hmmm??!

Arteemiis[S] • 3 points • 17 January, 2020 12:34 PM

Because feminism. It's called equality, don't you love it?

Super_S_12 • 2 points • 14 January, 2020 09:49 PM

...sooo why wasn't the woman charged with rape then?

TraditionalCoffee • 2 points • 14 January, 2020 10:07 PM

This is ridiculous and very unfair on men. But...If you think about it..It kind of makes sense. It's shitty but I think I get it.

2 drunk people, a man and a woman, in bed. Can the woman rape the man if he's passed out? I mean...lol As a man, I know that getting it up and having sex while piss-drunk is extremely unlikely. Especially if I was unconscious. But, the opposite is not true, you can indeed penetrate a woman that's completely passed out.

I think this might be the logic here. It's unfair, yes 100%. But think about it a little.

This might be a gender-specific challenge.

Anyway I'm not a professional, but I like to critically evaluate every situation. Even if I hate feminists and their dumb agendas.

French-dudev2 • 2 points • 14 January, 2020 11:24 PM

So Jessie was the rapist

aroh100876 • 0 points • 14 January, 2020 09:12 PM

I see these laws and the only thing I can think about is that women are too damn stupid and too damn immature to live with their own irresponsible decisions. Maybe Islam is right about them, women shouldn't be allowed to go out their house without a male companion.

UnLiberal04 • 1 point • 16 January, 2020 10:56 PM

Maybe scooch back a bit. We don't want to become like terrorists
