I guess it implies that feminists are femcels who would jump at any opportunity to get laid.

Basically feminists always talk about how being a promiscuous women is “liberating” and perfectly fine.
The creator of the meme is therefore saying that he needs feminism because feminists believe that women having casual sex is a good thing.

Which is why I don't get why so many men are opposed to it.

Feminism promotes sexual liberation as empowering to women. But they deep down know that there's nothing empowering about being a slut — that's why women get offended by it and they even spread gossips about each other slutiness. They wanna have their cake and eat it too.

This post sarcastically pokes this contradiction in their ideology and behavior.

Feminists are easy to fuck?

hatefulreason • 2 points • 26 November, 2019 08:48 AM there are plenty of radical feminists that would probably make you jump 100 hoops before giving you the time of day. they also hate sex-workers and transgenders.

and today they celebrate equality, but just for today, cuz yesterday they were crying that men are stronger and oppress them
