I got myself banned from r/Feminism, I commented 15min ago and received a message like 15 seconds later saying you have been permanently banned from participating in r/Feminism

I do not think there is an easier sub on reddit to get perma banned from than r/Feminism.

They fear anyone questioning anything they say as it may expose their bullshit and lies for what they really are. Because they have no solid arguments they are forced to instaban to keep their fragile world alive.

You clearly haven't seen r/femaledatingstrategy

VestigialHead • 3 points • 22 March, 2020 05:47 AM

Yeah they banned me before I even joined the sub. :)

From what I can see all that sub does is hate on traditional masculine values and say that it's easier to be lesbian

What about r/Sino

VestigialHead • 2 points • 22 March, 2020 06:31 AM

Never posted or even looked through that sub. Just posted there now. Will see if I get banned.

I got banned for something awhile ago, seems less toxic now, but it could be cover (like r/Offmychest)

You should visit a place like r/socialism or r/communism and say anything factually correct.

They are pretty bad too huh? I posted in r/sino yesterday - no ban yet. What I said was against the Chinese narrative there but maybe not negative enough.

I was permanently banned on there just for telling someone to enjoy what they enjoy.

Using logic and truth will get you banned from many subs on Reddit. It's what happens when the truth is considered hate speech.

I really hate that they took the name r/feminism, and only focus on women's issues. Can I get them to change their name or report it for using a wrong name?

the-unflattering-6 • 2 points • 22 March, 2020 03:34 AM

What did you say?

vasekgamescz • 1 point • 24 March, 2020 01:22 AM

Let's do getting banned from r/feminism speedruns
