Racism

"Black people are such thugs and criminals. Too many black people think it's okay to rob white people. Some black people are good, but not enough. Black people need to be better and realize that being a criminal is not okay."

Black Person:

I find it offensive when you demonize black people like that.

I'm just saying "don't be a criminal." Is that really setting the bar too high for you? If you get offended by somebody telling you not to be a criminal then you are the type of black person who needs to hear this message. If you were one of the good ones you would support this.

Feminism

Men are such bullies who harass women. Too many men think it's okay to bully and harass women. Some men are good, but not enough. Men need to be better and realize that bullying and harassing women is not okay.

Man:

I find it offensive when you demonize men like that.

I'm just saying "don't bully and harass women." Is that really setting the bar too high for you? If you get offended by being told not to bully and harass women then you are the type of man who needs to hear this message. If you were one of the good ones you would support this.
