Listen the whole pay gap thing is; and feminists know this as well. Men simply work more. Harder and Longer hours; and are more assertive about getting a pay rise.

This has even been proven in parliaments. When asked about the amount of time women worked vs men. They found men worked longer hours so naturally they earnt more. You work more you get paid more. It's as simple as that.

Now, feminists are like "why are men working more?!" - start enforcing paternal leaves so men have to stay at home and raise children as well.

Like that's just one of the many factors that contribute to men getting higher pays. Men naturally have an insane work ethic compared to women and choose more difficult and higher position jobs that require longer/harder working hours.

In words of a wise man," The reason why men are struggling today is because society tells them that their wish to be more productive and respected is somehow an outcome tyranny of patriarchy."

2000ber • 3 points • 16 July, 2020 08:55 AM

We should wish for everyone to work less. I have recently read about the need for better rights, not just equal rights.

Why aim for equality through limiting/decreasing the rights of one gender, when we should aim for increasing rights for all.

sanrio-sugarplum • 3 points • 16 July, 2020 09:52 AM

Paternal leave should be an option though

Un-De_ad • 5 points • 16 July, 2020 03:17 AM

Men have insane work ethic? I'm feeling guilt here

OneTrueLordOfReddit • 55 points • 15 July, 2020 06:46 PM

That's not even taking into account that the study is based on results where the gap was created because women worked less hours and took more holidays. I mean that's literally asking for less pay.

seajayde • 48 points • 15 July, 2020 07:44 PM

My Bamps (grandad) used to be a postman and there were always women who would complain about not getting paid as much while refusing to carry the heavy sacks. Always amazes me. But they will sqwark on about doing the exact same job. (And yes I know not all women are like this, I am one.)

tbl44 • 11 points • 15 July, 2020 09:37 PM

I sincerely appreciate your sentiment but just curious, why are you on this sub?

seajayde • 16 points • 15 July, 2020 09:40 PM

I'm on this sub for probably the same reason as anyone else is I'm anti extreme feminist. Why do you ask?

tbl44 • 3 points • 15 July, 2020 09:43 PM

Just curious as I said, being anti extreme feminist seems to be an unpopular sentiment with many women I know.

seajayde • 17 points • 15 July, 2020 09:46 PM

A lot of women are for equality and don't think any sex should get special treatment cos of their sex. Also will recognise all the bad shit men have to deal with and will speak up for them and try to help them. They are out there, I promise! I know I'm not the only woman here who thinks extreme feminists are batshit crazy.

MrsDSL • 8 points • 16 July, 2020 02:04 AM

34 year old woman here. I couldn't agree with you more!

tbl44 • 0 points • 16 July, 2020 12:52 AM

Thanks for your side, happy cake day!

jolivarez8 • -3 points • 16 July, 2020 02:14 AM

Just wondering, would you consider yourself a feminist or egalitarian? Some people equate only one with equality and some equate both with it so I was kind of interested in a woman's take on which seems a better movement to associate with.

seajayde • 5 points • 16 July, 2020 05:18 AM

Well, I said I wasn't a feminist in a previous comment so that answers that. I can't speak for all women but I deffo think that being an egalitarian is the way to go. Some feminists are for equality but as with anything, you seem to have to wade through the shite to find the good people. Imo anyway.

jolivarez8 • 1 point • 16 July, 2020 05:39 AM

Ah, sorry that I didn't catch that. I had just seen the anti-extreme feminist comments and some people can be a moderate feminist and be against the extremists so I wasn't sure. Thanks for your insight, I know ya can't speak for all women, but I am still interested in hearing what any women might think about these kinds of topics so I appreciate it.

VestigialHead • 3 points • 16 July, 2020 01:12 AM

There are more and more women taking this position everyday. They see the crazy harm that the extremists are doing and want no part of it.

MrsDSL • 4 points • 16 July, 2020 02:04 AM

I am a 34 year old woman and a conservative. Most women I know are anti feminists.

megaSalamenceXX • 3 points • 16 July, 2020 04:32 AM

Sadly most of the younger women I know dont share that sentiment.

rockynputz • 2 points • 15 July, 2020 11:20 PM

Most people are for equality, they just hate feminists actions and words.

WaylMaster123 • 1 point • 16 July, 2020 02:14 AM

Habby boring date

zipflop • 11 points • 15 July, 2020 09:59 PM

I hate when people try to argue for something and don't even look beyond the surface level. The pay gap is a prime example of this.

YourFavNemesis • 9 points • 16 July, 2020 03:39 AM

Let us not forget about the hoes who blow their bosses for promotions and bonuses.

Dr_Bukkakee • 4 points • 16 July, 2020 06:23 AM

I work with a female. In the last 4 years she has taken off for 4 1/2 months after having her toe operated on, a combination of 6 months for the two babies she had, and has left early multiple times due to crying fits after talking on the phone to her abusive husband. In that same amount of time I have had a kid and spinal surgery and only missed 3 weeks.

[deleted] • 6 points • 29 July, 2020 12:58 AM

Wage gap is fake spaghettaguett • 5 points • 16 July, 2020 12:44 AM or seniority either. they whine about getting 83% of the same pay as a dude who's been working there in the same job as her for 12 years, when she's had that job for 12 months.

sanrio-sugarplum • 3 points • 16 July, 2020 09:50 AM

All of those reasons can be summed up into "different career choices"

[deleted] • 2 points • 16 July, 2020 07:10 PM

I love this comic

conankudo1610 • 3 points • 15 July, 2020 09:25 PM

Not a fan of this meme because there is a visible difference in the number of carrots but the pay gap has been proven to be wrong.

Bananas_r_people_2 • 12 points • 15 July, 2020 09:37 PM

The pay gap exists but it's not because of sexism or patriarchy it's because men work harder and longer and more often.

rockynputz • 9 points • 15 July, 2020 11:21 PM

And it's only like 1-3%, It's funny women don't like to bring up how single women in their 20s early 30s out earn men.

conankudo1610 • 2 points • 15 July, 2020 11:10 PM

No it doesn't. The pay gap is looking at women and men overall as earners. It claims that women get paid less solely for the fact that they're women. When what's actually happening is that men and women are paid the same depending on the fields they go into and the hours that they work. I get what you're saying but that's not what the pay gap is.

SuperLutin • 0 points • 15 July, 2020 11:09 PM

It does not exist.

google example

zeerust2000 • 2 points • 16 July, 2020 02:18 AM

The 'pay gap' is a difference in average earnings between men and women taken across the entire workforce. It's a valid statistic, as far as it goes. But feminists simply stop there and don't bother asking why the average earnings differ. They simply assume it has to be due to some kind of oppressive discrimination against women, when it actually isn't. It's due to many factors, including the fact that men on average work longer hours.
