

Who Pushes For Commitment?

2 upvotes | 10 May, 2018 | by stoicstephen

My logic is if woman hold the key to sex then it is the men's job to go for it, and if men hold the key to commitment then it is the woman's job to go for it.

If the man is the one asking/ leading for commitment would that lower his value? (because he is giving what women want instead of being the women asking/ chasing it)

Thanks.

RPW is not a place for men to ask questions of the ladies here. Please try askTRP.
