

Best way to go for a number close?

June 9, 2014 | 2 upvotes | by binglebongledingle

I have heard many people say that out should just hand her your phone with the contacts screen open, but I have a pretty shitty phone so that's kinda out of the question. Any tips will be much appreciated. - a recovering beta on the way to Alpha-ism

I go with the very assertive "put in your number." This has NEVER failed.

I wouldn't worry about what type of phone you have, if they make a comment just come back with a funny comment like "my grandma won't let me have a smart phone" or some shit.

Alternatively, I could see some fun stuff with a pen. Hand it to her and ask her to write her number on a part of your body. I've been meaning to test this, but I rarely have a pen with me. I suppose if you're at a bar you could always ask the bartender to borrow theirs.

Hope this helps.

Hm, I like this pen idea. The man with the least skin showing at the end of the night wins. Also having lots of phone numbers written Memento style across your body would be great preselection.

Give her your phone even if it is shitty. If she mentions it tell her you used to own Prime-Co or some other defunct phone company. Make her laugh to deflect your shitty phone

I just tell them to give me their number. The logistics of inputting it do not matter.

Give her your phone with the dial pad. Have her dial her own number.

Her phone will ring, and you will know you havent been given a wrong number, and she will have your number too.

Ask if she would like to get together some time. If she agrees exchange of phone numbers is a natural step towards arranging the meeting.

You fuck her then get her number in the morning when you leave. Then you don't call her ever, because that's alpha as hell.

Or you just tell her to give you her number.
