I hope this is the appropriate place for this. From the March 2021 Male Psychology Newsletter:

Some very good news to start off this newsletter. The APPG was formed in March this year and Equi-law UK are acting as their secretariat. They are gathering information about challenges faced by boys in today's world. Members of the Male Psychology Network who are working with boys are invited to help this process by sending information on the topics such as positive role-models and fatherlessness; educational achievement; mental health and suicide; self-worth and confidence. If you would like to send in some information, contact chris@equi-law.uk for further details. You should do so by April 7th.
