

Fanged Female Condom Fun!

Who doesn't enjoy a good fanged female condom joke? If the answer is you, you might want to skip this post. If you aren't familiar with Fanged Female Condoms, they are a product whose good intentions are only exceeded by their impracticality.

On Citizen Renegade's thread on Fanged Female Condoms, Gorbachev started some wordplay in the comments section, and I took up the bait. If you read through the entire post and decide the whole thing just isn't funny, please post a comment and I'll see what I can do about refunding your 5 minutes (no guarantees).

Gorbachev:

| Another way to be hooked on poon.

Gorbachev:

| So I can see how this condom can be a good idea. The argument has a lot of valid points.

Gorbachev:

| It's a very sharply argued series of points, this argument for spearheading an anti-rape condoms. Withdrawal from the debate could be difficult once debate is entered, though.

| BTW, This is going to go on for a while.

Dalrock:

| Gorbachev

| Penetrating insight. I suspect we will be trading barbs for some time on this. You should brace yourself for some stiff opposition. Are you up for it?

Gorbachev:

| I don't know if I want to poke into the patch stinging nettles this gaping maw of debate represents. You never know what well-aimed dart might pierce your pride and scar the tender flesh of upright thinking.

| Talk about nature savage in tooth and claw, indeed. It might require me to balance my thoughts on a knife edge, as we often are forced to do by the push and pull of regular debate.

| But I get your point.

Dalrock:

| I get the thrust of your reasoning but I think you have become trapped in a circular argument. One must act carefully if you wish to successfully extract yourself from such a prickly predicament. Stay sharp man!

Gorbachev:

| I don't know if I can take any more of your biting commentary. All of these cutting remarks are beginning to sink their teeth.

Dalrock:

I knew it! Having been caught by your own rigid thinking, you now want to shrink away from the debate.

Gorbachev:

I think it's time to retreat. To sheathe the sword and clothe the tenets of this debate in more gentle terms.
