Turning on moderation later today.

I've been swamped all week and will be even more so over the next few days. I'll be turning on moderation in a few hours, and probably won't turn it back off until early next week.

In the meantime, if you crave high quality Christian Manosphere discussion, there are lively discussions over at:

- 1. American Dad: June Cleaver might be unmarriagable right now. Scott published the post this morning and as of 3:30 Central Time it already has 67 comments.
- 2. Cane Caldo: Where We Used to Live Isn't Cane posted this yesterday and it currently has 11 comments.

I would also recommend Still Amusing over at Vox Day's Alpha Game. Hilarious! Feel free to add any other blogs/posts you think readers would enjoy before I turn moderation on, including plugs for your own blog.
